Dear John,

This is not the life 29 I want, and I can't stand it anymore. I'm leaving you now.

We've been married 30 more than two years. However, you never helped me 31 any housework. I cooked meals for your family every day, washed the dishes, cleaned the house, watered the plants, and took out the garbage—all by myself. When you got home from work, you always said that you were too tired 32 anything. I also felt tired after work. I'm your wife, not your 33. I need to take some break.

If you don't make any change, it won't be meaningful for our love. Call me when you make up your mind.

Love,
Brenda

Are you the type of person who likes to be close to not only nature but also a big modern city? Do you also enjoy doing activities that are healthy as well as eco-friendly? If you answered yes to these questions, then the place that you need to visit is Stockholm. The city is spread out across 14 islands and has around 1,000 green spaces like parks and gardens. The water there is so clean that people who enjoy a good swim can dive in right in the center of the city. In 2010, it was voted the greenest city in Europe because of all the things that are done to protect the environment. The people who live there are proud of that. They are also proud of all the wonderful things that can be found in their city. This includes all the places that have beautiful art for people to see, the festivals that happen during the year, and the buses that run on green energy. Stockholm truly is a city that must be experienced in person.
